LEO

Leo is a dreamer, a boy that does not see any limits to his creativity and his observational skills. To better explain his dynamism and the speed at which he gives shape to his ideas, we could use Manzoni's sentence "…di quel securo il fulmine tenea dietro al baleno!" Then, like all geniuses, he has a couple of problems in his relationship with everyday life.

LISA

She is a country girl but with the typical attitude of one that does not let others walk all over her, not even the Genius, that dotes on her, and none the least the unpleasant son of the Vinci squire.

LORENZO

The forest and countryside do not keep any secrets from Lorenzo. He recognizes all the animal sounds and every leaf that he finds in his path. He is not envious of Leo in any way; on the contrary, he wants nothing but to be his partner in adventures and games.

PIRATES

The pirates in this film are not the classic looters "Captain Hook" style – baggy shirts and ostrich feathers - that we are used to see in films. Besides being very mean, we see them being represented in the story in a very human way: leather accessories, tattoos and socks with holes. But also aggressiveness and foolishness in equal parts.
